Haydale Graphene Industries plc
(the "Company")

Investor Open Day on 2 June 2015

Haydale (AIM: HAYD), the group focused on the commercialisation of graphene and other nano particle products using their proprietary plasma process is pleased to announce it is holding an open day for investors, media, analysts and other interested parties at its production facility at Ammanford, near Swansea. The open day will take place between 11:00 and 15:00 on Tuesday 2 June 2015 at Clos Fferws, Parc Hendre, Ammanford, Carmarthenshire, SA18 3BL.

There will be a series of presentations during the day providing guests with an opportunity to meet with Haydale staff and senior management.

Commenting on the open day, Ray Gibbs, Chief Executive said:

"Following the positive feedback after our open day last year we are pleased to invite our shareholders and other interested parties to visit our premises in Ammanford which now includes the new dedicated conductive ink production and testing facility. Visitors will also be able to see our new HD60 reactors, used to functionalise R&D quantities and the newly arrived larger HD200 with the capacity to process commercial volumes of nanomaterials."

Those wishing to attend are requested to reply in advance to info@haydale.com or by telephoning the Company.
